Chaucer appoints Xamira Groves as new Head of Insurance

- Groves joins from AXA XL where she held senior positions in London and South America.

Specialty (re)insurance group, Chaucer, has appointed Xamira Groves as its new Head of Insurance. Groves will oversee the delivery of strategy and portfolio management across all general insurance lines and underwriting entities.

Groves will work closely with Ed Lines, Active Underwriter of Syndicate 1084, Kelan Hunt, Deputy Active Underwriter of Syndicate 1084, and Jonathan Sutcliffe, General Manager of Chaucer Insurance Company D.A.C.

Groves joins Chaucer from AXA XL, where, most recently, she held the position of Deputy Global Head of Title Insurance. Prior to that, she was Managing Director of Catlin South America, based in Bogotá. She has also worked for Willis and Cooper Gay Steel in New York.

Groves is a multilingual, qualified lawyer with over 25 years of experience in the insurance market. She has worked across Personal Lines, Commercial, Marine Liability, and Property and Casualty Insurance. At AXA XL, Groves' responsibilities included P&L management, product development, and achieving top and bottom line growth targets.

Nicola Stacey, Chief Underwriting Officer at Chaucer says: "We're excited for Xamira to join us. Her strong record of successful business and product development and strategic planning will be invaluable to the firm."

"Additionally, Xamira's breadth of expertise and knowledge of the international insurance market will be a definite asset, as Chaucer looks to expand its global market share."

Xamira Groves comments: "I'm delighted to be joining Chaucer and greatly look forward to working alongside the firm's extremely talented individuals in driving the business forward."
